

Question 4

1. Create service account by giving the name to the service account.
2. In service account permission grant only Storage transfer viewer access to the service account.
3. Now go on to create a new VM instance.
4. Give a name to your new vm instance.
5. Attach your existing service account to this VM instance from Identity and API access section.
6. And then create the instance.